Dear Parent/Guardian,

It's time for the eagerly anticipated London trip, 2012!

We will be catching a train from Exeter St David's at 11:26am on Thursday, July the 12th, which is due to arrive in London Waterloo at 2:49pm. From here we will be visiting the London Aquarium. After acquiring food from a suitable location, we will be going to the Lyceum Theatre for the 7:30pm showing of the world famous "The Lion King". After the show we will be getting the 11:30pm coach, (which gets into Exeter earlier than the 11:00pm coach), to arrive back home at the wholly unreasonable hour of 4:10am.

Part of the day may even involve some Tube travel, (depending on time and weather), so this really will be a full London experience!

Hopefully this being the first day of the summer holidays, will not be a problem, but our end of term schedule is so packed with exciting events it would be impossible to fit this in otherwise!

The whole trip will cost £75, and you will need some money for food!

All students from Early GCSE and upwards are invited, but any children 12 years old or younger will need to be supervised by a parent/guardian, due to the obvious hazards of travelling around London! I know this is a terrible burden to place on you, but I'm sure you will be able to endure a fun day out!

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me or Mr Jenner jr.

Oh yes, and I need responses by this Friday, (the 15th), because the longer we leave it, the more expensive it becomes!

All the best!

Mr W Power – wpowerteaching@gmail.com

I give permission for my son/daughter, to go on the London Trip, organised by Mr Power and Mr Jenner on the 12th of July 2012.

I, will also be attending as a parent/guardian, (delete if not applicable).

Please find enclosed £..... as payment for people.
